HOGG MIDDLE SCHOOL

THE PROBLEM

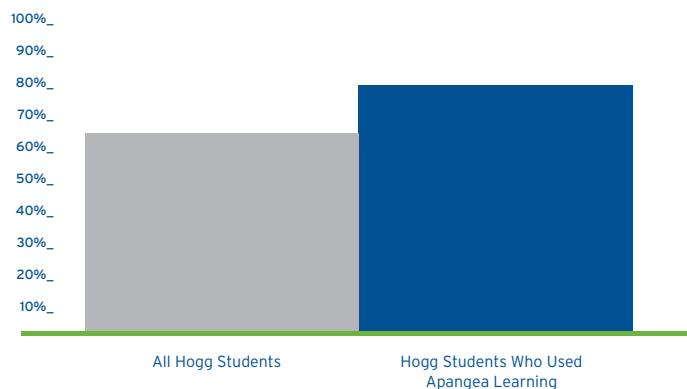

During the 2007-2008 school year, 26 students at Hogg Middle School were determined "At-Risk" of not passing the 8th grade Texas Assessment of Knowledge and Skills (TAKS).

THE SOLUTION

Engage these "At-Risk" students in an intensive, one month Apangea Learning Math program.

THE RESULTS

81% OF 26 "AT-RISK" STUDENTS WHO USED APANGEA LEARNING MATH PASSED THE TAKS, COMPARED TO A 67% SCHOOL AVERAGE.

THE STORY

Texas students must pass the 8th grade Texas Assessment of Knowledge Skills (TAKS) in order to move on to the 9th grade. During the 2007-2008 school year, Hogg Middle School, part of the Houston Independent School District, identified a group of students who were determined to be "At-Risk" and likely not to pass the 8th grade TAKS.

Hogg Middle School's solution: create an intensive, secondary math class to help these students pass the 8th grade TAKS. The intensive, month-long program utilized Apangea Learning Math for 90 minute sessions two to three times per week.

Because of Apangea Learning Math, 81% of these 26 "At-Risk" students passed the TAKS on the first administration! In contrast, the passing rate for the school's general student population was only 67%.

"OF THE 26 8TH GRADERS THAT WERE USING THE APANGEA LEARNING PROGRAM, 21 OF THOSE STUDENTS PASSED THE TAKS! WE ARE SO EXCITED!"
